see KILKEEL

The Kilkeel Rambler Service 407 meanders through the gentle rolling hills of the Mournes - a keen favourite with ramblers at all levels.

More than 90 years ago, the 36km (22-mile) dry-stone Mourne Wall was built to enclose Silent Valley, which was dammed to create the Silent Valley Reservoir, to this day the major source of water for County Down. The 36km (22-mile) Mourne Wall trek follows the Mourne Wall, an 8-foot granite fence built over 18 years between 1904 and 1922, which threads together 15 of the range's main peaks. It's more than most hikers want to take on, and certainly shouldn't be attempted in a single day. But it is unquestionably the finest long walk in the Mournes and offers wonderful views.

A fine alternative is the more modest walk from the fishing port of Kilkeel to the Silent Valley and Lough Shannagh. An even less strenuous alternative is to drive to the Silent Valley Information Centre and take the shuttle bus to the top of nearby Ben Crom.

Adult Day Return £1.90, Adult Single £1.30,
Children under 16 - Half Price
(Over 60's travel free on presentation of a valid SmartPass).

Attractions in the area

- Silent Valley Mountain Park
- Kilkeel Harbour
- Nautilus Centre
- Cnocnafeola Centre
- Narrow church
- Cranfield

Kilkeel is located on the South east most point of Co. Down. It is situated on the sea and surrounded by the mountains of Mourne. Make a stop at the picturesque coastal village of Cranfield, an increasingly popular place with many caravan parks in the area. Or simply call at the cosy harbour at Kilkeel and see a busy fishing port in operation. Why not make a stop at the Cnocnafeola Centre situated in the centre of Attical deep in the mountains of Mourne. This is an ideal area for trekkers who wish to set off on long walks.

Ramblers - Before you go:

- Plan within your capabilities and learn the use of a map and compass
- Tell someone where you are going, the route you intend to follow and the time you expect to be back. Most importantly, remember to tell them when you have returned
