Brand A Bus Art Competition All Aboard, Young Artists...

Have you ever imagined your artwork zooming around Northern Ireland on a real bus? Now's your chance to make it happen with Translink's Brand A Bus art competition!

We're looking for young artists like YOU to show us your vision for a Net Zero Northern Ireland and the future of climate change. Your art could travel the roads, teaching everyone how we can all work together for a cleaner, greener world.

Get on the right track! To get you started, think:

How can buses and trains help make Northern Ireland greener?

Think about how public transport can reduce pollution and help our planet.

What can we all do to help tackle climate change?

Maybe you want to draw how we can reduce waste, use less plastic, or take action to help nature.

What does a healthy planet look like to you?

Show us your green dream! Maybe it's a world full of trees, clean rivers, and happy animals.

Don't miss the bus! Make sure to have your entries in by 20th June 2025.
